JJ Reports – Getting Started

- > JJ Reports, the online Juvenile Justice Reports
- > GEMS
- > Instructions for Completing Juvenile Justice Reports in GEMS –
PLEASE KEEP AND USE IT
- > Questions ask as they come up

JJ Reports – Purposes

- ⌘ JJ Reports provide information to monitor grant implementation and the achievement of program objectives
- ⌘ Reports enable reporting on federal Performance Measures:
 - > Grantees report to GCC through GEMS
 - > GCC reports NC's data to federal OJJDP
 - > OJJDP uses data from states to report to Congress, OMB

JJ Reports – Two Main Report Types

Mid-Year and Final Reports

- same report, different due dates and reporting periods
- Reporting: quantitative and qualitative information

Project Progress Reports

- formerly, “Annual Performance Reports”
- Reporting on federal Performance Measures: output and outcome data

JJ Reports - Content

Mid-Year and Final Reports

- ⌘ Section 1: quantitative information
- ⌘ Section 1: direct services projects only
- ⌘ Section 2: qualitative information
(e.g., accomplishments, problems/barriers)
- ⌘ Section 2 is for all JJ projects

JJ Reports – Content, continued

Project Progress Reports

- Reporting on performance measures specified in the Special Conditions for your grant
- Activities and General Comments tabs are also included (when appropriate, use the latter to explain results reported on in the Project Objective tabs)

JJ Reports – Importance

Your data is needed to complete GCC's federal report to funders

- Must be submitted no later than the deadline date in order to ensure timely reimbursements.
- Reimbursements are not able to be processed while a JJ Report is pending or outstanding

JJ Reports - Tips

- ⌘ Review what you will be expected to report on as soon as possible
- ⌘ Establish a recordkeeping system or database
- ⌘ Keep and use the handout from today
- ⌘ Be honest about barriers, realistic about successes
- ⌘ System makes reporting easier, but direct communications are still welcome and appreciated (we like to know how your project is doing and the direction it is taking)

Alternative Funding Source

- Due to limited JJ funding, some projects will be funding with JAG funding
- Identified on grant award
- If JAG funded, a PMT report will be required
- You may contact CJI Planner for reporting information
